

Spark Job Description

Are you interested in improving learning across your school and boosting your own leadership skills? As a 'now>press>play Spark' you can support and inspire other pupils and staff.

To be a now>press>play Spark you will need to:

- Enjoy using technology and equipment.
- Care about helping other people.
- Be confident working with teachers and each other.

What will I need to do as a now>press>play Spark?

- Regularly check and maintain the headsets and charge the transmitter.
- Support teachers to set up the equipment.
- Know where the equipment is stored.
- Share your 'EdTech' expertise with other pupils, classes and teachers.
- Promote the use of now>press>play across the school.